MILE BUILDING

WELCOME ABOARD

Some days deserve a wider horizon.

An island lunch. The last light on the water. A watch beneath the stars. Sailing with ZERO can be a few beautiful hours or a journey that changes the way you feel at sea.

Based in Olhão. Open to adventure.

Our Jeanneau Sun Odyssey 52.2 brings private sailing, coastal escapes and participatory Atlantic passages into one considered collection.

GUEST WCS

Private charters are shaped around your party and preferred pace. On passage programmes, berths, crew allocation and each participant's role are agreed before confirmation.

Guest numbers remain subject to the confirmed crew plan, accommodation allocation and authorised operating capacity.

OLHÃO / RIA FORMOSA

A day that belongs to you.

Settle into the Algarve's island rhythm: a gentle departure, time on the water and an unhurried pause in a suitable sheltered spot.

Culatra and the Ria Formosa. Island access is arranged around the yacht, tide and local conditions.

PRIVATE DAY / ABOUT 6-8 HOURS

A SMALL, CONSIDERED ROUTE

Sail. Pause. Explore.

A tailored local outing from Olhão, with a swim when conditions allow and lunch aboard or an agreed island restaurant stop.

Farol & Culatra

Two distinct communities on the same barrier island. Deserta is another possibility when time, access and conditions suit.

PLAN YOUR PRIVATE DAY

The simplest luxury.

A private yacht. A quieter pace.
A sky that changes by the minute.

LOCAL SUNSET / ABOUT 2-3 HOURS

A short local return outing from Olhão, timed to the season and the tide. Add a light tasting board, refreshments or a personal celebration to your proposal.

MAKE AN EVENING OF IT

A local sunset is not a coastal transfer to Lagos or Portimão. Route, catering and all inclusions are agreed in advance.

YOUR PEOPLE. YOUR PACE.

Stay a little longer.

Let the coastline unfold over more than a day. A skippered private charter creates space for sailing, good food and time together, without trying to fit every harbour into one afternoon.

01 / 2-3 NIGHTS

The coastal escape

A relaxed short charter with overnight berths or anchorages selected around conditions, and time for the Ria Formosa or a coastal passage.

02 / 5-7 NIGHTS

Your Algarve week

A bespoke coastal journey, with an achievable mix of sailing, harbour visits and quieter days. One-way trips and transfers can be discussed.

03 / BY REQUEST

An island chapter

Explore a private stay aboard in the Canaries or Madeira when ZERO is positioned there. Repositioning and offshore passages are separate arrangements.

All durations are suggested formats. Overnight guest/crew berths, route and commercial terms are confirmed individually.

THE SMALL DETAILS MATTER

Comfort, with salt in the air.

AT YOUR OWN RHYTHM

An easy welcome

A practical boarding briefing, a place for your soft bag and a clear plan for the day. Tell us about children, mobility and dietary needs before booking.

SHAPED AROUND YOU

Food & occasions

Choose simple onboard provisioning, a prepared lunch or a shore reservation where feasible. Birthdays, proposals and private gatherings can be styled to suit.

These are optional elements, not automatic inclusions. Water activities and shore visits depend on suitable conditions and arrangements.

LAGOS / SAIL TRAINING

Confidence for the next horizon.

RU Sailing

Our sail-training partner in Lagos, RU Sailing is an RYA-recognised training centre offering practical and theory courses, specialist coaching and its own mileage-building programmes.

A useful next step before a longer passage: discuss the skills you want to develop, preparation for a course or exam, and whether dedicated tuition is appropriate.

SAILING EXPERIENCE + A CLEAR TRAINING PATH

ZERO voyages build experience. Formal instruction, assessment and certification are separately agreed with RU Sailing. No RYA recognition of ZERO, onboard course or guaranteed qualification is implied.

QUINTA DO LAGO / TIME ON THE WATER

Another way to play.

Quinta do Lago and its coastal setting. Artur's lake activities are arranged separately from ZERO sailings.

Artur Watersports Academy

Our watersports partner at Quinta do Lago adds another dimension to an Algarve stay: lake sailing, windsurfing, kayaking, stand-up paddleboarding and family activities.

Pair a ZERO sailing day with a separate session at the lake. Lessons, age requirements, equipment, seasonal opening and transfers are confirmed with Artur's team.

VILAMOURA / THE CRAFT BEHIND THE SAIL

Care, in every stitch.

Dune Algarve Sailmakers

Our sailmaking partner brings specialist knowledge to the fabric of sailing: new sails, sail maintenance and repair, nautical covers and upholstery.

Based in Vilamoura, Dune serves marinas across the Algarve and southern Spain. A considered technical relationship supports the preparation behind memorable time afloat.

For owners inspired by the voyage, we can introduce a separate sail or canvas brief. Technical work and quotations are agreed directly for the vessel and scope concerned.

MEET DUNE SAILMAKERS

Three chapters. One Atlantic story.

Join a selected passage or discuss the complete circuit. This is participatory sailing: watches, changing horizons and the satisfaction of arriving by sea.

01

Olhão to the Canaries

Lanzarote / approximately 590 NM

02

Canaries to Madeira

Lanzarote to eastern Madeira / approximately 290 NM

03

Madeira to Olhão

Via Porto Santo / approximately 520 NM

Around 1,400 NM

Indicative core circuit, not guaranteed mileage. Island cruising adds distance. Each stop creates a separate passage; this is not one continuous qualifying voyage.

OLHÃO TO LANZAROTE

Leave the familiar behind.

Papagayo, Lanzarote. A destination to explore after an ocean passage, conditions permitting.

A REAL OFFSHORE PASSAGE

The ocean rhythm

From the Algarve towards Lanzarote: shared watches, sail handling, lookout and the gradual transition from coast to open water.

ARRIVAL IS PART OF THE STORY

Time on the islands

Recover ashore, explore volcanic scenery or discuss an additional island-cruising block. La Graciosa and Gran Canaria are options, not promised stops.

DISCOVER THE CANARY ISLANDS

THE CANARIES TO MADEIRA

A different shade of Atlantic.

Ponta de São Lourenço, Madeira. Destination photograph.

Trade volcanic shores for Madeira's dramatic coastline. The northbound passage is a distinct sailing challenge, planned for its own weather window rather than treated as the outbound trip in reverse.

Make space for rest, a day ashore and a change of pace. The final port, berth, route and time on the island follow conditions and availability.

EXPLORE MADEIRA

MADEIRA / PORTO SANTO / THE ALGARVE

The return is a voyage of its own.

Left: Madeira's eastern coastline. Right: the view aboard ZERO.

A Madeira stay can be followed by Porto Santo, before the open-water passage back towards Olhão. The satisfaction is not simply in the miles: it is in settling into the watch, making better decisions and seeing familiar land again.

PLAN FOR THE REAL JOURNEY

Allow a separate return-weather allowance. Flexible onward travel matters: a flight or meeting must never become a reason to sail in unsuitable conditions.

Protected areas and restricted anchorages are not included by default. Permissions and suitable conditions must be confirmed for any optional stop.

SAILING THAT INVOLVES YOU

Earn experience. Keep the story.

For sailors who want to grow in confidence, a passage aboard ZERO is active participation, not a promise of a qualification. Start with your experience, your logbook and what you want to learn.

01 / PREPARE

Before departure

Contribute to the passage brief, weather discussion, provisioning, stowage and a practical safety familiarisation.

02 / PARTICIPATE

On watch

Practise lookout, helming, navigation cross-checks and sail handling under the agreed supervision. Roles match competence and conditions.

03 / REFLECT

After arrival

Review the route, decisions and what you would do differently. Confidence grows through involvement and an honest debrief.

04 / RECORD

Your passage log

Record actual miles, dates, hours, night sailing and the role you genuinely performed, with skipper verification where appropriate.

RYA eligibility depends on the actual passage and your role. Brochure mileage is not proof of a qualifying passage; several legs cannot be added together and called one continuous Ocean passage.

GOOD SAILING STARTS BEFORE THE PIER

A season beyond the summer.

ALGARVE DAYS

Spring to autumn

Explore dates outside the busiest summer weeks for a different pace. Day length, sea conditions and seasonal services shape the programme.

ATLANTIC PASSAGES

The weather leads

Offshore departures are selected for the route and crew, not a brochure calendar. Northbound and southbound legs need separate assessments.

Before an offshore booking we discuss experience, fitness for the trip, seasickness concerns, night watches, rest and practical travel flexibility. Bring suitable layers and a soft bag; the final joining brief specifies the equipment required.

No fixed departure dates, arrival deadlines, sea-state guarantees or year-round availability are advertised in this edition.

PERSONAL CONTACT. CLEAR RESPONSIBILITIES.

Before you step aboard, we listen.

Ana Melo

GENERAL MANAGER

Ana oversees ZERO's day-to-day operations and supplier coordination. She helps bring the itinerary, guest arrangements, partner activities and practical details into one coherent plan.

For agencies and travel partners: you lead the client relationship. ZERO helps shape the sailing and local arrangements around the agreed brief.

START WITH THE EXPERIENCE YOU WANT

A day. A week. A new horizon.

Tell us your dates, flexibility, party size and the experience you have in mind. For mile building, add your sailing background, preferred leg and any training objective.

01 Choose your format

Private day or sunset · overnight charter · coastal experience · one Atlantic leg or the linked circuit.

02 Receive a clear quotation

Named operator and crew, guest/berth allocation, embarkation, duration, tax treatment and exactly what is included.

03 Agree before committing

Fuel, food, marina fees, transfers, flights, partner activities and any additional expenses are itemised or expressly excluded.

04 Know the terms

Payment milestones, weather changes, cancellation, rescheduling and refund terms are confirmed in writing before booking.
